Lake County Men Given High Appointments

Marks Named to Patronage Committee; Lyons Is Governor's Aide

William M. Marks of Lake Villa, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee, was called to Springfield to take an important part in the inauguration of Governor Dwight H. Green when the new governor appointed him as one of five party leaders in Illinois to pass on all state patronage jobs.

Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville, Republican opponent of Green in the primaries last spring, is to receive the important appointment of administrative assistant to the governor.

Both men's appointments are considered well deserved recognitions of their work on behalf of the Republican party over a number of years.

Campaigned for Rival

Lyons was acclaimed for his good sportsmanship last year when he stumped the state for Green, in the election campaign, after crowding him for the nomination in the primaries. He is regarded as one of the most able speakers in Illinois, having campaigned a number of times in behalf of others, and twice in his own behalf.

Lyons' long service in the state legislature and the esteem in which he is generally held for his character, integrity and ability were cited by Green as qualifying the Libertyville man especially for the important office of administrative assistant.

Harmonious Leadership

The harmonious working of Republicans within Lake county and in their relationships with the Eighth district have been due in no small part to the able leadership of Marks as chairman of the county central committee, party members state, commenting on his appointment to a larger sphere of influence. This leadership helped to coordinate and give impetus to forces that resulted in the piling up of a large Republican majority in this region in the November election.

In his capacity as a member of Green's personal advisory committee, Marks will be called upon to deal with more than 9,000 bids for political jobs already on file in Chicago, in addition to several thousand applications in Springfield.

Other members of the committee are John T. Dempsey, chairman of the Cook County Republican committee and the governor's choice for committee chairman; Ben L. Berve of Rochelle, chairman of the state Republican central committee; Alfred L. Schupp of Joliet, chairman of the Will County Republican committee and president of the Illinois Association of Republican County Chairmen; Frank G. Thompson of Mt. Vernon, chairman of the Jefferson County Republican committee and a member of the State Republican central committee.

Rescue Truck Takes Injured Man to Chicago

Edward Sorenson, one of four brothers operating Sorenson's Trucking service of Chicago, is in Willard hospital in Chicago for treatment for injuries to either his spine or pelvis in the fall which occurred as he was entering a store here Monday. Sorenson lost his footing and fell backward on the sidewalk.

Although in a half-fainting condition after being helped to his feet, he had his helper on the truck aid him in walking to the Ford garage.

A brother made the trip from Chicago by automobile, intending to take him back in the car, but on his arrival Dr. A. N. Berke, who had been summoned in the meantime, warned them of the possibility of spinal injuries and advised against any attempt to make the trip sitting up.

Learning that there would be some delay in securing an ambulance and observing that Sorenson was in considerable pain, members of the Antioch rescue squad placed him on a stretcher in the rescue truck and took him to Chicago, at his urgent request.

Sorenson has a summer cottage at Powers lake, as has another of the brothers, and is well known through many business contacts in this locality.

George Swan Dies in Topeka, Kansas

ON GUARD

Start Drive to Assist Infantile Paralysis Victims

Containers have been placed in Antioch business establishments for the collection of funds to aid infantile paralysis victims.

The drive is a part of a nation-wide effort inaugurated several years ago under the leadership of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and conducted annually since then.

Fifty percent of the funds collected will remain in Lake county to aid infantile paralysis victims within the county limits, and the other 50 percent goes to Warm Spring Foundation in Georgia.

At least five cases were given aid in Lake county last year. Two had bills of $100 for hospital and medical care paid, and three were provided shoes with special braces and so on appropriate to their needs.

Postmaster Roy Kufalk is in charge of the drive in Antioch Township. General chairman for Lake county is Postmaster Joseph Daly, Waukegan.

Mrs. Mary Myers Dies in Berwyn

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Myers, of 680 North Main street, heard with deep regret of her death Jan. 10 in Berwyn, Ill., where she had spent the past month at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Mesieka.

She was born Feb. 22, 1870, in Hanover, Germany. She came to this country about 50 years ago and was united in marriage with Rudolph Myers on Oct. 12, 1900. They moved to Cicero, Ill., in 1917 and lived there until 10 years ago, when they moved to Antioch.

During the past year her health began to fail, and about a month ago she moved to her daughter's home.

Surviving are her husband, Rudolph of Antioch, her daughter Helen and son-in-law George Mesieka; her son Leonard Myers and wife Mildred, and granddaughter, Marlene Myers, all of Berwyn.

A brother, Fred Lubkeman, and sister-in-law Matilda Lubkeman, live at Diamond Lake, and another sister-in-law, Mrs. Lena Grube, resides in Antioch.

Final rites were held at the Cermak Funeral home in Berwyn, with burial in Woodlawn cemetery.

John Nader of Lake Villa Dies

John Nader, one of Lake Villa's oldest citizens, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Hamlin, on Friday, Jan. 10, after an illness of three months.

He was born in Czeko-Slovakia, but came to the United States at an early age and lived in Chicago until he came to Lake Villa in 1902, when he built a home on the corner of Grand avenue and Route 21, where he conducted business until his retirement a few years ago.

Mrs. Nader preceded him in death a few years ago, and for the last 2 years he has lived with his daughter, Mrs. Fred Hamlin, who lovingly cared for him during his illness. Besides his daughter he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Rose Belek of Fox River Grove and Mrs. Anna Belek of Belvidere, and one brother, Tom Nader of Mundelin, besides many nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the Fred Hamlin home and burial took place in Chicago.

Firemen to Have New Ladder and All Metal Helmets

Modernizing Equipment Will Prove Valuable Aid to Department

A new all-metal type sectional ladder and new all-metal helmets will be added to Antioch's Fire Department equipment, according to action taken by the fire organization at its meeting Tuesday night. The cost of the new equipment will be paid in part from receipts of $204.84 netted at the dance held on Dec. 11 at the R. & H. Chevrolet garage. This amount included a donation of $25.00 made by Soper's Spa.

The new equipment has the approval of underwriters, firemen said.

A large delegation, it was learned, will attend the county meeting at Fox Lake on January 27, and the local men will support the Grayslake department in their bid for the county convention to be held in May. The local delegates will ask for the annual June meeting.

The donkey basketball game scheduled to be played here in the high school gym on January 23 between local firemen and Lions club members holds promise of being a hilarious event and aroused considerable speculation as to who is going to ride to glory on his donkey.

Extra Attraction at Donkey Game

Jim McMillen was chosen by the firemen to pick his team from among the 30 active members of the department, and Bud Holtz will pick his team from the 40 Lions club members.

Besides the donkey game which will in itself be a hilarious event, an extra attraction will be another game between a colored team from Waukegan and the Antioch town team.

Plan Wrestling Show

Work of preparing for the annual wrestling show was placed in the hands of Fireman McMillen. This year's show will be of added importance since the proceeds are to be used for placing a two-way radio in the emergency truck.

All firemen were requested to assist at the ice carnival here Sunday.

The secretary was requested to notify firemen who have not been attending meetings of the provision in the by-laws which call for attendance of at least 15 meetings a year, (sickness or work excepted.)

Conference Game With Ela Set for Friday

Antioch Township high school's eagles will meet Ela high of Lake Zurich in a double-header game here Friday night.

A game between the second teams of both schools is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock, with the first teams meeting in a conference game at 8:30.

The Sequoias bowed in Bensenville in games there last Friday evening. The first team lost, to Bensenville, and the second string players also were on the losing side.

Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Beebe wrote from Sarasota, Fla., that they have been enjoying the warm weather and sunshine there since Jan. 7. The Beebees, former residents of Antioch, have been making their home at Anoka, Minn., during recent years.

May Establish City Carrier Service Here

Postmaster Kufalk Seeks Opinion of Antioch Mail Patrons

Carrier delivery service may be available for patrons of the Antioch post office, it is indicated in a questionnaire just received by Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk from the Post Office Department in Washington.

After interviewing many patrons of the local office, Kufalk said he had found no one who was outspoken against the proposed service, and he at once made inquiry as to the availability of the service for the village. The questionnaire received yesterday stated that "upon receipt of completed questionnaire consideration will be given the establishment of city delivery. Please state population in summer and winter and population in improved territory."

Office Can Qualify. Based upon office receipts, or volume of business, the local office can more than qualify for the service, Kufalk said.

Meanwhile patrons are discussing the effects of the establishment of the service here, with the idea of presenting the desirable features of the free mail delivery as well as bringing to light its disadvantages, if any.

With the establishment of delivery service the one cent local postage rate for first class mail would be abolished automatically and the two cent rate will be in effect, Kufalk pointed out. Patrons served by carriers, especially those in the more remote areas of the village would receive their mail later than they habitually do by calling for it at the post office.

Boxholders Unaffected. Patrons served by the carriers could no longer call at the post office for their mail, but would have to be served by the carriers exclusively. This would constitute no great handicap for patrons who call at the post office in mid-forenoon for their mail, Kufalk said.

The service would not affect boxholders who may retain their boxes at the post office and may call for their mail at any time, and patrons who receive their mail in the general delivery likewise would not be affected.

Postmaster Kufalk is anxious to tabulate public opinion regarding the proposed establishment of the free delivery service and the News today is printing a voting coupon on which patrons may express their opinion. These should be filled out and taken to the post office.

Students of Miss Olson's class at Antioch High school visited the village post office Tuesday afternoon and learned from Postmaster Roy Kufalk, Miss Daisy Richards, Oliver Hughes and other members of the staff how the U. S. postal service is conducted locally.

Mrs. Clara Willett and son, Harry, will leave tomorrow on a vacation trip to San Antonio, Tex. They expect to be gone two weeks.

Evans, Mutual Ins. Co., Sec'y. 31 Years, Resigns Because of Ill Health

Clarence Sheen was elected to succeed William Evans as secretary at the annual meeting of the Mutual Farmers' Fire Insurance company Tuesday afternoon in Social Center hall. Trevor Evans, who has held the office for 31 years, resigned because of ill health.

Harry Lubeno, president; Joseph Greenwald, vice-president; Arthur Bushing, treasurer, were all re-elected.

Evans will continue to serve the company as a director and Matt Reiter was also re-elected director.

The company paid out $226.54 during the past year, and has on hand, up to date, $271.28, according to reports made at the meeting. Eighteen members were present.

S. B. Nelson and Chicagoan Suffer Accident Injuries

S. B. Nelson, Antioch real estate and insurance broker who is in Victory Memorial hospital receiving treatment for injuries received in an automobile accident Saturday, is reported to be resting easier.

Nelson sustained a break of the right thigh bone near the pelvis when the car in which he was riding with two Chicagoans went out of control and struck a tree, on State Line road near Pikeville.

P. P. Musket, Chicago, owner of the car, was driving, and his brother, Frank H. Musket, was a passenger. The steering wheel was wrenched from the driver's grasp when the machine struck a rut in the gravel road, and Musket was unable to regain control as it swung from side to side before bringing up against the tree.

Nelson was thrown clear of the car. He and Frank Musket, who sustained three broken ribs and serious cuts and bruises, were removed to the hospital by the Antioch rescue squad in its special first aid truck. P. P. Musket was uninjured.

The men were on their way to inspect a farm the Musket brothers were interested in purchasing when the accident occurred.

Bob Hardman Receives Broken Ankle in Fall

What he at first thought was only a sprained ankle turned out to be a broken one for Bob Hardman of Hardman's resort on Bluff lake Monday.

Hardman called on a business acquaintance in Lake Forest Monday, and as he stepped off the bottom tread of a basement stairway a pebble caused him to wrench his ankle and stumble.

Returning to his home at Bluff lake, he observed increasing pain and swelling, and an X-ray examination by Dr. A. N. Berke in the evening disclosed that the right ankle bone had been chipped. It was expected that by Wednesday the swelling would have gone down enough so that the bone could be set.

Horse Race, Pageant to be Special Events

Crowning of Queen Will Climax Gala Sports Event Sunday

Getting bigger and better all the time are plans for the Winter Ice Carnival to be held at Lake Antioch under the auspices of the Winter Sports association Sunday.

A challenge match race on the ice between Hollywood Hunter, owned by Maple Line Farm, at Grayslake, and Sam Wickford, owned by Dr. Garshline of Palatine, is the latest exciting addition to the program.

These horses are two of the fastest pacers in the country, having covered the mile in 2 to 2:04.

Hollywood Hunter will be driven by Peg Behning, of Grayslake, well known horse trainer and sports promoter. Sam Wickford will be handled by Marge Malone, crack woman race driver, of Palatine.

Pageant at Night. An Indian pageant in the evening is to be another "added feature."

Speed skating and contests, and the horse race, are to be highlights of the afternoon. In the evening there will be fireworks, the pageant, crowning of the Carnival Queen and King, and general skating.

While many skaters have already availed themselves of the entry blanks published in the Antioch News and other newspapers, the committee announces that entries will also be accepted on the day of the carnival. Cash prizes will be given to winners in speed races and a number of other prize awards will also be made.

No Admission Charge. There will be no admission charge for any part of the carnival program.

Afternoon events will commence at 2 o'clock with speed skating, fancy skating, barrel jumping, and races for boys and girls.

Special prizes will be given for the oldest skater, youngest skater, best-dressed skater and the best couple of skaters.

Evening events, opening at eight o'clock, will include general skating as well as fireworks, the pageant and the crowning of the Carnival Queen (continued on page 5)

"Go Forward in Peace"

In the opinion of a number of commentators, the President's Madison Square Garden speech of October 28th was one of the most effective of his campaign. It has much to do, they feel, in turning the tide in his favor. In that speech, the President declared that his policy was one that would safeguard our country's peace in a torn and warring world. His last two sentences were these: "We shall continue to go forward in firm faith. We shall continue to go forward in peace."

The issue that confronts us today, is the issue of peace or war. That is the most terrible issue that any President, any government, any nation, can face.

Those polls which proved so accurate in forecasting the result of the election, indicate that an overwhelming majority of Americans are opposed to war. The Congress is a peace Congress, with almost every member committed to the principle that we shall not again participate in a foreign war. The President has said he is a peace president.

We can stay at peace if we set ourselves dead against aggression and make ourselves so strong that no aggressor will dare attack us. That must be the American policy. That must be the ideal in which all Americans share, from the President to the lowliest among us.

Never Forget

Today, as many an historian has been pointing out, we are witnessing an attempted world revolution. The purpose of Nazism, Fascism and Communism is, basically, to destroy the established economic and social order of the world, and to put in their place an entirely different order.

In attaining that revolutionary goal, the first step invariably taken by the total government, when seizing power in their own countries, has been to take over all sources of credit—to take control of money out of private hands, and place it in the hands of the ruling clique. The dictators realize that whoever controls a nation's money and credit, controls that nation in every phase of its life.

There is a lesson in this for the United States. Under our system, the people control their money. Those who take care of it for them, such as banks, are simply the people's fiscal servants, and are subjected to the most stringent public regulation. That system has worked. It is the system of private enterprise—the system of democracy—the system of a free and sovereign people.

There are those who would change this system and give government an infinitely greater control over the nation's money and credit. Often their arguments are plausible. But, if they have their way, the only possible end will be economic dictatorship—to be followed in due course by social dictatorship. These are hard words, but Europe has shown us how true they are. Let them not be forgotten here.

During several nights of last week the calaboose was occupied by penniless travelers who preferred sleeping there to staying out all night.

Lake Villa has, so our correspondent says, a skating club, and is prepared to meet all comers. Some few of them come to Antioch and get their "skates" and are prepared, we should judge, to do figure skating. If Lake Villa's fast skaters will come up, Antioch will try and find some schoolboy who will skate ahead and make tracks for them.

On the night that burglars entered Williams Brothers' store by forcing an entrance through one of the windows, Ben Stone's store door remained unlocked during the entire night.

Germany's attitude in the Moroccan question and the demands her representatives will make at the coming international conference at Algeiras will, it is feared in Washington diplomatic circles, lead to a war between the empire and France.

There has been a dispute as to the coldest weather so far this winter. And in order to set things right, we have been informed by J. C. Miss Mary Anderson, who has for many months served as a Red Cross nurse in France, arrived here Wednesday evening. When she arrived on the evening train, she was not only greeted by a number of relatives and close friends, but also by a good-sized delegation of the townspeople headed by the Antioch band.

New members who were received into Olson camp of the Royal Neighbors Tuesday evening include Deborah Van Patten, Estella Rock, Emma Miller, Dora Feilbrick, Pearl Trieger, Nellie Cobb, Mary Shales, Minnie Stickle, Mabelle A. Crandall, Anna Ekland, Mabel Selter, Laura Yopp, Elzabe Anzinger, Bertha Stanton, Eleanor Micheli, Bessie Trieger, Jennie O'Brien, Cora Burke, Marie Snodgrass, Mary Paddock, Pearl King, Mary Sheehan, Mary McCann, Esther Hawkins, Ethel King, Gladys Panowski, Ethel Runyard, Mayne A. Hunt, Katherine Mackin, Marie Rausar, Nellie Hanke, Ella Kveton, Anna Soule, Rose Hoenney, Fannie Messager, Lily Bartlett, Mary Martin.

Last Saturday night about 11 o'clock Tom Brimpton of Lake Villa had the misfortune to slip on the icy sidewalk here and suffer a broken leg.

The old Red Cross boxes were taken up the first of the week and this morning are again in their customary place each bearing a brand new cov-

Thorvald Laursen, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Laursen, writes from Trier, Germany—"The country here is beautiful. It was not shot up like it was in France. We saw some women and kids, which was something we had not seen for some time. We are now quartered with a family. ... We sleep in a spring bed with a feather tick over us. ... the first bed I have slept in for a year. ... I just got back from the rail road at Trier where I went with the Packard truck to try to get a rear wheel from the salvage truck there. It would surprise you to see some of the salvage dumps over here. There are hundreds of trucks, touring cars, motor cycles, tractors, tanks and everything you can think of, and it is all American stuff in them. We have seen a lot of German trucks that the Germans have left and they all have steel tires on them. You know, rubber is so scarce over here. They use springs on their bicycle wheels."

The Illinois House of Representatives Tuesday approved the federal prohibition amendment by a vote of 84 to 66.

SOCIETY EVENTS

Illustrated Talks on Educational Ass'ns Given for P. T. A.

The purposes and organization of the Illinois Education association were described in a lecture illustrated with slides and motion pictures at a meeting of the Antioch Grade School Parent Teacher association Monday evening in the school house. Twenty-two were present.

Taking part in this portion of the program were Wallace McIntyre, sixth grade teacher, Miss Ayleen Wilson, and Principal Ralph E. Clabaugh.

The organization has 46,679 teachers enrolled in its membership and has 18 divisions. More than one-tenth of the membership is located in the Lake Shore division, which includes Antioch and of which Clabaugh is president.

Rural school facilities and social opportunities were also discussed, and pictures dealing with them were shown.

Elmo Edwards of the Antioch High school staff showed a sound film entitled, "Modern Education in Beaver-ton Consolidated School," and dealing with a grade and high school serviced by a fleet of eight buses and taking care of 15 districts.

The evening's program included community singing led by Hans von Holwede; piano accordion solos by Vida Haley, Doris Burdick and Darlene Christensen; a saxophone solo by Mabel Lou Hunter, and songs by the Eighth Grade glee club, composed of Gene Radtke, Stewart Good, Charles Vykruha, Glen Childers, Ralph Trieger and Don Heath.

The room count was won by the seventh grade.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Sacriment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ. Scientist, on Sunday, January 12.

The Golden Text was, "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all" (11 Corinthians 13:14).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose; he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire" (Luke 3:16).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We should strive to reach the Horest helict where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity. The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration" (p. 241).

and King, Marguerite K. Phillips is directing the pageant, with a cast of Antioch High school students.

All of the activities will be announced over a public address system, over which music will also be broadcast.

A number of notables in the sports world have been invited to be present at the carnival as guests of honor. They include George Halas, president of the Chicago Bears football club; Paddy Driscoll, former All-American football star, and Jack Manders, ("The player with the educated toe") former All American star now with the Chicago Bears.

Story of Pageant

In the form of an Indian pageant will be the crowning of the King and Queen.

As the pageant opens, on the hillside will appear the Ancient Spirit of Sequoia, portrayed by Dale Smith.

He will descend the hillside to the ice throne which is to be erected for the "rulers" of the carnival, and will chant the legend of Lake Antioch, Un a Li Yi, Place of Friends.

Summoning his Indian braves, George Stenberg, James Roepnack, James Jones, Fred Hawkins, Dale Barnstable, Jack Fields and Leo Buchta, he will lead them in a "Dance of Welcome."

As the dance ends, the Indians will gather at one side of the throne to await the approach of the modern Spirit of Sequoia.

Idol Maier will lead the skaters as they approach, while Florence Peterson sings "The Land of the Sky Blue Water."

Skaters in the escort of honor for the King and Queen will include Jack Horan and Meredith Matthes; Robert Gross and Shirley Harness; Jerry Hogan and Carol Waters; Gordon Good and Virjean Hook; William Effinger and Shirley Johanson.

The skaters will take their station opposite the Indians, to form a pathway, through which the King and Queen will skate to the foot of the throne. There they will be met by the Spirit of Sequoia and escorted to their seats on the throne to be crowned "King and Queen of Un a Li Yi, King and Queen of Place of Friends, King and Queen of Lake Antioch."

The King and Queen will then lead the assembled skaters in forming a complete circle about the lake.

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE BY TOPPS

The Checkerboard Trade Mark Had a Very Simple Start

Often we've been attracted by that popular Checkerboard trade mark that is a part of the sign identifying one of our local feed stores and on the bags and containers in which its feeds, concentrates and sanitation products are packed. But how did it get started?

You're wrong if you've guessed it was so the bags could be used for playing a game of checkers out in the barn on a rainy day. According to William H. Danforth, founder of Purina Mills, their checkerboard trademark had a simple, yet rather amusing, beginning.

Wm. H. Danforth, founder of the checkerboard trade mark.

It was a boyhood experience that gave Mr. Danforth his checkerboard idea. When a boy he waited on customers in his father's general store in southeastern Missouri. There he learned many valuable lessons that were to serve him well in his business career. "But the most important thing I learned behind the counter in that country store where we sold everything from linen handkerchiefs to horse collars, was this," Danforth smilingly recalls. "I learned the importance of dress. And I learned that lesson from the mother of a large family in our community."

"Among the many articles we handled in our store was 'bolt goods,' mostly old-fashioned calicoes and sturdy gingham

Along in the spring of the year business picked up in this line of goods. Customers swarmed into the store to buy dress materials. Usually they purchased enough material to outfit the whole family. From the same bolt would be made shirts for the father and all the boys, and dresses and aprons for all the girls. Most of the women who traded with us chose modest patterns and varied them from year to year. But not Mrs. Brown. Mother of a large brood of low-headed boys and girls of all ages, Mrs. Brown had one invariable choice in spring material. In all the time she traded with us she didn't, so long as I remember, swerve from her standard. She always bought a bolt of heavy red-checked gingham. You can imagine the appearance of the Brown family when they came out in their new spring wardrobe," Danforth recounts.

"Mrs. Brown headed the crew bedecked in her red-checked dress. Mr. Brown supported her with a red checkerboard shirt. And through the whole family the design was repeated—red-checked dresses for every girl, red-checked shirts for the boys.

"It was a striking appearance this family made. They were conspicuous from afar. Other mothers might temporarily lose sight of a child or two at an ice cream social or a basket-dinner. But not Mrs. Brown. She could spot a Brown offspring in any crowd. And so could everyone else.

"Before long the Brown family in that community became indelibly associated with red checkerboard gingham," Danforth says, "and from that family I learned that to make a thing stand out you have to dress it to fit the part. And I also learned that dressing alike gives a unity and identification lacking in helter-skelter design."

Years later when Danforth, fresh from college campus, decided to enter the feed manufacturing business, he remembered how a Brown was never mistaken for anyone else in the community. So he decided to dress his products so they would never be confused with those made by others. Thus was born the checkerboard trademark that, through 47 years, has increasingly gained popularity, and is a part of the sign that identifies our local feed store that handles checkerboard feeds, concentrates, and sanitation products.

Ideal husband hang things up, others don't give a hang.

The Observer

Seems like the American people are getting kind of tired of the move to shove 'em into war. And speaking of that argument about the British navy being our defense—if the history we were taught in school had anything to it... the United States has had to make its way ever since 1776 or so with the British navy being as much of a menace as a help... and we would not be surprised but what this country is plenty good enough to last a long time yet under its own power. We just wonder how fast England would rush to help this country if our economic toes were being tramped on and we got into a fight over it. And while our sympathies are aroused, maybe we'd better kind of bring a little old-fashioned Yankee shrewdness to bear on the problem... Germany doesn't scare us half so much as the fear that Britain may be obliged to move her king, queen, peers and a few attendant troubles that go along with her seat of government over to Canada. And we'll bet Canada feels about the same about it, too, though of course they won't admit it... It might be worth a few good American dollars to make sure Great Britain hangs onto England. We love her better at a little distance. And even Germany could sort of sympathize with our feelings there.

Roy Kufalk, worthy postmaster of Antioch, says this here now winter sports program for the Lakes region is a pretty swell thing, but he'd also like to see a revival of that old fashioned winter recreation that used to be enjoyed alongside a warm stove and a crackle barrel in the village store, meaning checkers. In fact, Roy is promoting for a checker tournament in Antioch, so anyone who goes in for the milder forms of exercise can just grab his board and counters and gallop right over to the post office to make arrangements for a future encounter. The line forms at any vacant window.

One of our local spiritual leaders, who has made a valiant battle for the triumph of the good life over the forces of evil, lays part of the credit for his success to the attractive picture he paints of the rewards of virtue, and the equally (but differently) effective word pictures he draws of the fate of evil-doers.

He tells, for instance, the story of the colored preacher who was trying to explain the fury of Hades to his congregation.

"You all has seen molten iron runnin' out from a furnace, ain't you?" he asked.

The congregation said it had. "Well," the preacher continued, "dey uses dat stuff fo' ice cream in de place I'm talkin' 'bout."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Defense Funds Constitute Largest Item In 17 1/2 Billion Dollar National Budget; Blockade on Food for France Is Lifted; British Win New Victories Over Italians

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

FIRM WORDS: President Speaks

President Roosevelt spoke to the new congress. There were no wessel words. The President was grave. His speech was frank, and fighting. He said he would call on congress to give authority to provide "billions of dollars" worth of weapons needed by the embattled democracies of the world. He warned appeasers and subversive elements that the government would use its sovereignty to save the government. He admitted that the defense effort is lagging in some quarters and demanded sacrifices from business, labor and agriculture.

England has been criticized at home and abroad for not making earlier a statement of its war aims. President Roosevelt covered this detail as far as the American effort goes. He said America was seeking to protect the fundamentals on which this government was founded—free speech, a free press, the right to worship as a person's conscience dictates; and, lastly "freedom from want and freedom from fear."

The President made no light matter of the danger. He said secret troops of the dictators already are among us. He said as long as the aggressor nations maintain the initiative, America is not safe. He declared whatever stands in the way of speed must give way to the national security.

It was the most unique message ever delivered to a new congress. Usually President's messages to new bodies go into lengthy and detailed recitals on a multitudinous amount of administrative complexities. This message dwelt on one subject—defense, and speed in defense.

Two days later came the President's new budget message. It called for a total expenditure of $17,485,526,049 during the 1942 fiscal year beginning July 1, 1941. This is the highest budget in history except the war year 1918-19. Over 10 billions of this amount is to be used for U. S. defense spending. The balance of non-defense spending came to well over six billions, a little less than this year.

More taxes will be needed, said the President's message, to pay

Mussolini could have silenced the bad news, since all the Italian press is controlled by him. But even before British broadcasts could tell of their troops successes, Italian announcers were breaking the news to their own people, and no effort was made to deny the loss was serious. In fact, for days Italian minds had been "conditioned" to expect the loss. There is belief in some excellent quarters that 15,000 Italian troops in Bardia, cut off from retreat and with little food and water, were ordered to hold out at the sacrifice of their lives while this radio propaganda could be carried out at home.

Boys From Down Under

Conversely there was no celebration in England, although the British figuratively lifted their hats in appreciation to the Anzacs who fought amid heat and sand in Egypt. Anzacs are Australian and New

When the British forces entered Bardia after routing the Italian stronghold, Air Gunner H. T. Brundage, 25, (above), was the lone American in their ranks. He holds a civilian pilot's license and has been recommended for an Air Force commission.

Zealand troops who came half way round the world to answer England's call, just as their fathers had done in the World War. Officially they are members of the Australian and New Zealand army corps.

The Anzacs are one of the oddest armies in the world, knowing little of the discipline quirks that govern many other bodies of troops. The Anzacs do not salute the officers of their own army, and certainly not the officers of any other, including the British. Colonels are likely to be called by their first names even when addressed by privates; captains and sergeants mingle with the utmost freedom. All troops eat at the same table and wear the same uniform, the only difference being insignia of rank.

But any World War veteran will tell you that the Anzacs are one of the tightest bunch of men ever to raise a gun.

For 20 days they had to stand outside the gates of Bardia, waiting the word to attack, and growing more impatient by the hour. When the signal came the city fell in less than 48 hours.

FOOD FOR EUROPE: Britain Relents

American governmental pressure upon London has brought a change in blockade policy and will result in some food shipments being made to Spain, unoccupied France and Finland.

U. S. authorities have been negotiating with the British for months to obtain a reversal of the order. The British were afraid that any food reaching Europe soon would be in the hands of the Germans, whom they accuse of stripping occupied territory so as to increase rations at home. The story told in France was repeated to American diplomats. In France, it is said, there is a German waiting every time a chicken lays an egg.

Besides, it was pointed out to the U. S. agents, that it is the duty of the conquering nation to feed the conquered, and it was recalled that American and British sacrifices were necessary after the Armistice in 1918 in order to get food into Germany, both occupied and unoccupied territory.

But American pressure continued, and London unwilling to be stubborn with the nation to whom it is looking to supply much of its munitions, finally relented.

New Commander

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, by direction of the President, has announced that Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel (above), has been appointed commander-in-chief of the entire United States navy and personal commander of the Pacific fleet.

SEA WOLVES: History Repeats

The German quota of three British ships sunk daily was raised to five as a sea raider appeared in the Pacific to war on the British trade lines. Prisoners taken by the raider and later released said the captain of the German ship is Count Felix von Luckner. Count Von Luckner led the British a merry chase in 1916. Then he was supplied with an old sailing vessel by the German navy, ran the blockade and left behind him a trail of sinking ships from the west coast of Ireland to the South Seas.

After the war, Count Von Luckner came to the United States. He lectured to audiences that were dazzled with his good-natured raillery. He leased a sailing ship and took the sons of wealthy parents on summer cruises for large fees. He expressed disgust with the Nazi government.

But the count's present audiences are not being dazzled. They say he sank their ships without warning, killing women and children, that he huddled what prisoners he took in evil quarters with little food. Ever the gallant, however, he gave them a complaint book in which they entered all the complaints they wished to make about the ship. He promised them the book would be for his personal attention. But there was no indication he bothered after reading the complaints.

Meanwhile, there was a hint that American vessels might soon take over the Pacific trade routes and release British vessels there for the more vital Atlantic runs, in areas closed to American ships under the neutrality act. The idea was discussed at the outbreak of the war. Washington sources say the British voted it. London sources say the proposal never got an answer from American shippers.

NEW DRAFT: Legion Plan

When next fall rolls around, it has generally been expected President Roosevelt will call for a new enrollment in the selective draft. The idea behind this is to take care of those who have attained their twenty-first birthday since October, 1940, and to exempt those who have passed their thirty-sixth birthday. The new enrollment would call for new drawing of numbers which might see some lifted to top positions who now are far down the list.

The American Legion has come forward with a new plan. It calls for enrollment in a new selective draft only of youths between the ages of 18 and 21. Moreover it would be a permanent arrangement, not like the present law which is operative only during the present threatening emergency. It would call for compulsory military training of the nation's youth as a matter of regular national policy.

MISCELLANY:

Death pursued four navy air corps members. They with three others, including two officers, were riding in an amphibian plane in Texas when caught in a storm. The pilot, to lighten his load, ordered the five enlisted men to parachute to earth. Four landed safely, one tore loose from his chute and fell to his death. A naval court of inquiry was ordered to fly to the scene near Big Spring, Texas, for an investigation. After the official proceedings the court flew toward San Diego, Calif., with the four enlisted men in the plane. In a lonely California canyon the plane crashed. Eleven were killed, including the four who had survived the adventure in the other plane.

A million dollar increase in pay has been awarded to employees of the Tennessee Valley authority. The increase, affecting 10,000 employees of the federal agency, was agreed upon at the annual wage conference of the TVA and the Trades and Labor council.

Harry Hopkins, former secretary of commerce and close personal friend of President Roosevelt, is in London on a special mission. The circumstances recall the special missions in 1916 of Col. Edward House, personal friend of President Wilson.

NAMES in the news

Judge—J. Warren Madden was first chairman of the National Labor board, but his decisions caused so much criticism in congress that President Roosevelt despaired of naming him for a second term, fearing senate opponents would block ratification. So the President named him to the U. S. court of claims. His enemies in the senate still were displeased but approval finally came.

Fame—Mrs. Martin J. Weller was one of the most famous lion tanners in the world 40 years ago. She was world wide known as "the lady of the lions." She quit her profession after the St. Louis World's fair, but remained living in that city where she died the other day at 75.

THE SLIGHTED INVITATION

LESSON TEXT—Luke 14:15-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Come; for all things are now ready."—Luke 14:17.

Actions speak louder than words. What a man says is important, but it is his life which determines whether we accept his words as true. In spiritual things men have too often professed to follow Christ but failed to do His will. It is the business of the church to press home the necessity of an acceptance of Christ as Saviour which also makes Him the Lord of our life.

I. Pious Words (v. 15).

We do not know whether the man who said, "Blessed is he that eateth bread in the kingdom of God," was expressing the sincere longing of his heart or merely making a bit of pious conversation. Jesus had just been dealing with some rather disconcerting matters (vv. 1-14). On such occasions there is usually someone on hand to spoil the effectiveness of the admonition by uttering some religious platitude which will direct conversation into more comfortable channels.

Even though the man was sincere, he had evidently not made any preparations to be present at that great feast. This appears from the story Jesus related in response to his words.

II. Poor Excuses (vv. 16-20).

It is not enough that we know that God has prepared a place of blessedness, nor does it suffice to speak approvingly of God's invitation to come; we must accept. God graciously bids all men to come; but all too many, while willing to admit the desirability of coming and admiring it as the ideal thing to do, begin to make excuses.

Observe that the men gave excuses, not reasons. There is a great difference. Note also that the excuses were poor ones. One had a new possession—a field—which he "must go out and see." The second had a business matter to care for—trying out oxen he had bought. The third had a personal affection he wanted to foster—a new wife whom he could not leave.

The fact is that none of them wanted to come, and these were but excuses. What man buys a field without seeing it, or oxen without trying them? And we agree with Dr. Morgan that the one who had married a wife "was the most foolish of all. Why didn't he take her with him? Just excuses." Reader, what excuse is keeping you from accepting God's invitation?

III. Urgent Invitations (vv. 21-24).

Those who reject God's invitation hurt only themselves, for He will find guests to fill the banquet hall at the marriage supper of the Lamb.

Let us not fail to observe that it is the duty of the Lord's servants (and that means every born-again Christian) to be diligently about the business of urging men to respond to God's call. Let us beware that we do not miss that point by uttering some pious platitudes about soul-winning, and then failing to do anything to reach others.

It is the first business of every Christian who reads these lines to be engaged in personal soul-winning. If you want to do it and do not know how to start, I shall be glad to send you free, a copy of "Lessons in Soul-Winning," by Dr. Will H. Houghton. The important matter is that we get busy giving out these urgent invitations.

It is the first business of the unconverted to accept that invitation. Dare you refuse? In one of his last meetings in Kansas City, Dwight L. Moody graphically portrayed the invitation referred to in our lesson. In closing his message he pointed to the wall of the auditorium and seemed to be writing out a reply to the invitation. He first wrote a note declining, the final words being, "I pray thee have me excused." He said, "Would you sign that, young man? Would you, mother? Would you come up to the reporter's table, take a pen and put your name down to such an excuse? I doubt if there is one here who would sign it. It is a loving God inviting you to a feast and God is not to be mocked. Go play with the forked lightning, go trifle with pestilence and disease, but trifle not with God."

Must Have His Spirit

A young Italian boy knocked one day at the door of an artist's studio in Rome, and when it was opened exclaimed: "Please, madam, will you give me the master's brush?" The painter was dead, and the boy, inflamed with a longing to be an artist, wished for the great master's brush. The lady placed the brush in the boy's hands, saying: "This is his brush; try it, my boy." With a flush of earnestness on his face he tried, but found he could paint no better than with his own. The lady then said to him: "You cannot paint like the great master unless you have his spirit." So it is with us in the Church today; if Christians have not the Master's spirit they cannot successfully carry on the Master's work.—F. M. Townley.
